Any such transmission carried out using the correct user id and password will be considered as originating from the Client unless HMS is informed in writing by the Client to cease internet trading operation on behalf of the Client;
- 5.4.7. Any instruction sent via the Trading Platform or by e-mail by the Client shall only be deemed to have been received and shall only then constitute a valid instruction and/or binding Contract between HMS and the Client when such instruction has been recorded as executed by HMS and confirmed by HMS to the Client through the Settlement/Trade Confirmation and/or Account Summary, and the mere transmission of an instruction by the Client shall not constitute a binding Contract between HMS and the Client.
- 5.4.8. The Client has the sole responsibility and liability to ensure that the user id and password provided by HMS are not disclosed or revealed so as to enable anyone to act in the Client's name. Any transactions entered into by the Client via the internet will be executed in due form, even if the user id and password of the Client have been obtained by third parties;
- 5.4.9. It is the sole responsibility and duty of the Client to ensure that the Client Account Statement(s) and position(s) are correct at all times. In case of discrepancies, it is the Client's sole responsibility and duty to inform HMS immediately when the discrepancy occurs;
- 5.4.10. A Trade Confirmation will prove that any instruction sent by the Client through the Trading Platform has been received. The transmission and receipt of an order does not constitute in itself a confirmation of acceptance of the transaction. Only the Account Summary confirms that the Client's transaction has been executed;
- 5.4.11. It is possible that errors may occur when pricing certain transactions. HMS cannot be held liable to fulfil any such contract where such errors:
 - Were evident to a reasonable person to be errors at the time of the transaction, or
 - HMS is able to substantiate that the pricing was in error as at the moment of the transaction.
- 5.4.12. When the Client instructs HMS to enter into a position which is opposite to one or more of the Client's open positions, HMS will apply the FIFO (First In- First Out) principle and consequently close out the opposite position which was opened as the first of such positions unless the position has related orders or otherwise agreed.
- 5.5. The Client shall promptly provide any instructions to HMS which HMS requests. If the Client does not provide such instructions promptly, HMS may, in its absolute discretion, and without any liability to the Client for such action take such steps at the Client's cost, as HMS considers necessary or desirable for its own protection or the protection of the Client. This provision is similarly applicable in situations when HMS is unable to obtain contact with the Client.
- 5.6. If the Client does not provide HMS with notice of its intention to exercise an option or another Contract which requires an instruction from the Client at the time stipulated by HMS, HMS may treat the option or Contract as abandoned by the Client. If a Contract can be prolonged on expiry, HMS may at its sole discretion choose to prolong or to close such Contract on a best effort basis and in accordance with its Best Execution Policy and credit the Client's account with the proceeds if any are due.
- 5.7. Instructions shall be acknowledged orally or in writing by HMS, as HMS deems appropriate.
- 5.8. HMS may (but shall not in any circumstances be obliged to) require confirmation in such form as HMS reasonably requests if an instruction is to close an account or remit money due to the Client or if it appears to HMS that such confirmation is necessary or desirable.
- 5.9. The Client shall indemnify HMS and keep HMS indemnified against all losses, which HMS may suffer as a result of any error in any instruction given by an Authorized Person or as a result of HMS acting on any instruction, which is, or appears to be, from an Authorized Person.
- 5.10. HMS may, at its sole discretion and without explanation, refuse to act upon any instruction.
- 5.11. In general, HMS shall act according to instructions as soon as practically possible and shall, as far as trading instructions are concerned, act within a reasonable time frame in the context of the nature of the instruction and according with HMS' Best Execution Policy. However if, after instructions are received, HMS believes that it is not reasonably practicable to act upon such instructions within a reasonable time, HMS may defer acting upon those instructions until it is, in HMS' reasonable opinion, practicable to do so or otherwise notify the Client that HMS is refusing to act upon such instructions.
- 5.12. The Client agrees that HMS may record all telephone conversations, internet correspondence (chat), and meetings between the Client and HMS; and provide such correspondence, recordings, or transcripts from such recordings, as evidence to whom HMS in its entire discretion sees it to be desirable or necessary to disclose such information (including, but not limited to, any regulatory authority and/or any court of law) in relation to any dispute or anticipated dispute between HMS and the Client. However, technical reasons may prevent HMS from recording a conversation, and recordings or transcripts made by HMS may be destroyed. Consequently, the Client should not rely on such recordings being available.
- 5.13. The Client must provide HMS with a working e-mail address for the purpose of sending information to the Client. Any such communications sent to the Client via e-mail will be considered as received upon being sent by HMS. HMS is not liable for any non-delivery, delay or alteration of communications sent via e-mail.
- 5.14. HMS may display the Account Statement and Trade Confirmations on the Trading Platform. The Account Statement and Trading Confirmations will be considered as being received by the Client as from the moment they are available on the Trading Platform.
- 5.15. The Trading Platform may be available in several versions, which may be differentiated in various aspects including, but not limited to the level of security applied, products and services available etc. HMS shall not be liable to the Client for any loss, expense, cost or liability suffered or incurred by the Client due to the Client using a version different from HMS' standard version with all available updates installed.
- 5.16. Due to developments in news driven algorithmic trading strategies, certain service providers may not support updates of forex quotes fast enough to reflect the true market price as and when economic data is released.

Therefore the Client is hereby made aware that when trading via the Trading Platform, placing news driven order strategies, orders may either be rejected or if accepted the trade price readjusted which may result in a net loss to the Client. HMS shall not be liable to the Client for any loss the Client might suffer, real or perceived, resulting from placing such orders.

Trading strategies aimed at exploiting errors in prices and/or concluding trades at off-market prices (commonly known as "sniping") are not accepted by HMS. Provided that HMS can document that there on the time of the conclusion of the trade were errors in prices, commissions, or in the Trading Platform, and provided HMS can render probable that the Client, based on its trading strategy or other provable behaviour, deliberate and/or systematically has exploited or attempted to exploit such an error, HMS is entitled to take one or more of the following countermeasures:

- Adjust the price spreads available to the Client;
- Restrict the Client's access to streaming, instantly tradable quotes, including providing manual quotation only
- Retrieve from the Client's account any historic trading profits that HMS can document as having been gained through such abuse of liquidity at any time during the Client relationship; and/or
- Terminate the Client relationship immediately by giving written notice.

5.17. If the Client operates several Accounts (or sub-accounts) and opposite positions are opened on different Accounts (or sub-accounts), HMS shall not close out such positions. The Client is specifically made aware that unless closed manually by the Client, all such positions may be rolled over on a continuous basis and thereby consequently all incur a cost for such roll-over.

5.18. In accordance with the applicable regulatory framework, HMS keeps records all telephonic conversations kept through its telephone lines for the minimum period defined by law. Likewise, HMS keeps all e-mails exchanged with its Helpdesk for a minimum period of 5 years.

INITIALS:

6. | MARGIN, COLLATERAL, PAYMENTS AND DELIVERY

- 6.1. The Client shall pay to HMS on demand:
- Such sums of money by way of deposits, or as initial or variation margin as HMS may require from time to time. In the case of a Contract effected by HMS on an exchange, such margin shall be not less than the amount or percentage stipulated by the relevant exchange plus any additional margin that HMS may in its reasonable discretion require;
 - Such sums of money as may from time to time be due to HMS under a Contract and such sums as may be required in or towards clearance of any debit balance on any Account; and
 - Such sums of money as HMS may from time to time require as security for the Client's obligations to HMS under this Agreement or any other Agreement that the Client may have with HMS.
- 6.2. If the Client makes any payment under this Agreement which is the subject to any withholding or deduction, the Client shall pay to HMS such additional amount to ensure that the amount actually received by HMS will equal the full amount HMS would have received had no withholding or deduction been made.
- 6.3. Payments into the Client Account are deposited by HMS on the condition of HMS receiving the amount in question. This shall apply irrespective of whether it has been explicitly stated in receipts or other notices of or requests for payment.
- 6.4. With the prior written agreement of HMS on each occasion, the Client may deposit Collateral with HMS for the purpose of complying with its obligations. The Client is specifically made aware that HMS will not accept non-cash assets as collateral. HMS may at any time refuse to accept any Collateral supplied by the Client.
- 6.5. Any Collateral will be held by an intermediate broker or eligible custodian, appointed by HMS, and the intermediate broker or eligible custodian shall be responsible for claiming and receiving all interest payments, income and other rights accruing to the Client. HMS accepts no responsibility or liability whatsoever for any Collateral when held by an intermediary broker or eligible custodian or the acts or omissions of any such intermediate broker or eligible custodian and shall not be liable to the Client for any losses resulting directly or indirectly from any acts or omissions of such, intermediate broker or eligible custodian
- 6.6. HMS is with the Client's specific consent, entitled to, on behalf of the Client:
- Pass on any money or Collateral received from the Client in order to satisfy HMS' obligations to any third party;
 - Charge, pledge or grant any security arrangement over Collateral in order to satisfy HMS' obligations to any third party in which case the Collateral may or may not be registered in the Client's name;
 - Lend Collateral in order to satisfy HMS' obligations to any third party in which case the Collateral may or may not be registered in the Client's name; and
 - Return to the Client property other than the original Collateral or type of Collateral.
- 6.7. HMS shall not be obliged to account to the Client for any income received by HMS as a result of carrying out any of the activities described in this Clause.
- 6.8. The Client shall be obliged to promptly deliver any money or property deliverable by it under a Contract in accordance with the terms of that Contract and in accordance with any instructions given by HMS for the purpose of enabling HMS to perform its obligations under any corresponding Contract entered into between HMS and a third party.
- 6.9. If the Client fails to provide any margin deposit or other sum due or comply with the margin requirements set as in Clause 6 under this Agreement in respect of any transaction, HMS, at its absolute discretion and without prior warning, reserves the right, but not the obligation, to close all open Contract(s) in order to meet the obligations of the Client. Any such liquidations will be performed with due care, on a discretionary and best effort basis and in accordance with HMS' Best Execution Policy.
- 6.10. If the Client fails to make any payment when it falls due, the Client shall pay interest (from the due date and until payment takes place) on the outstanding amount at the rate stated in the Commission, Charges & Margin Schedule.
- 6.11. The Client is advised that HMS shall have the right, in addition to any other rights it may have under this Agreement, or under Luxembourg law in general, to limit the size of the Client's open positions (net or gross) and to refuse orders to establish new positions. Situations where HMS may exercise such right include, but are not limited to, situations where:
- HMS considers that the Client may be in possession of Inside Information;
 - HMS considers that there are abnormal trading conditions; or
 - The value of the Client's Collateral (as determined by HMS in accordance with Clause 6.4 above) falls below the minimum margin requirement.

7. | MARGIN TRADES AND ACCOUNT EXPOSURE

- 7.1. The Client must not invest in more than 70 percent of the Client's account value in any one Margin Trade instrument and/or related Margin Trade instrument. If the Client holds more than 70 percent of its account value in any one Margin Trade instrument and/or related Margin Trade instrument, the Client will be required to reduce exposure. It is the Client's total responsibility to monitor its account(s) and exposure at all times. If the Client does not comply with this requirement, the Client Account will be considered to be over-exposed and HMS, at its absolute discretion and without prior notice to the Client, reserves the right, but not the obligation, to reduce the Client's exposure by closing position(s) in accordance with its Best Execution Policy. The Client is made aware that HMS, at its absolute discretion, may consider certain accounts higher risk and may lower the above threshold to 50 percent. In such cases, HMS shall inform the Client.

- 7.2. On the date of the opening of a Margin Trade between HMS and the Client, HMS may require the Client to have margin on the Account at least equivalent to HMS' initial margin requirement.
- 7.3. HMS' margin requirement shall apply throughout the term of the Margin Trade. It is the sole responsibility and duty of the Client to monitor any margin requirement arising under this Clause 7 and to ensure that sufficient margin is available on the Client Account at any time. HMS may or may not notify the Client that the margin requirements are not met. If, at any time during the term of a Margin Trade, the margin available on the Account is not sufficient to cover HMS' margin requirement, the Client is obliged to close any or all open Contracts in order to meet its obligations. The Client may also fund its account before the Collateral falls below HMS' margin requirement. Such transfer must be made and documented to the satisfaction of HMS immediately after HMS has requested the Client to do so. Even if the Client takes steps to reduce the size of open Margin Trades or to transfer sufficient funds, HMS may close one, several or all of the Client's Margin Trades or part of a Margin Trade and/or liquidate or sell securities or other property in the Client's account at its sole discretion without assuming any responsibility or liability to the Client for such action.
- 7.4. The Trading Platform is a multi-product trading platform, which supports cross product margining for any margin-based investments made in the different financial instruments supported. The Client is therefore required to monitor first and foremost the aggregated margin requirements from all investments as a percentage of the Client's Net Free Equity. At 100% "Margin Utilisation" the Client will be deemed to have utilised all available margin collateral.
- 7.5. The Client's total "Margin Utilisation", irrespective of products traded, must not exceed 100%. If the funds in the Client's account fall below the minimum margin requirements and the "Margin Utilisation" exceed 100%, the Client will be required to decrease position(s) in order to reduce exposure. It is the Client's total responsibility to monitor position(s) and margins at all times. If the "Margin Utilisation" exceeds 100%, HMS reserves the right but not the obligation to close out all open positions.
- 7.6. If the Client has opened more than one Account, HMS is entitled to transfer money or Collateral from one Account to another, even if such transfer will necessitate the closing of Margin Trades on the Account from which the transfer takes place.
- 7.7. HMS' general margin requirements for different types of Margin Trades are displayed on the Trading Platform under the section "trading conditions". However, HMS reserves the right to determine specific margin requirements for individual Margin Trades.
- 7.8. The Client is specifically made aware that the margin requirements are subject to change without notice. When a Margin Trade has been opened, HMS is not allowed to close the Margin Trade at its discretion but only at the Client's instruction or according to HMS' rights under this Agreement. However, HMS will increase the margin requirements if HMS considers that its risk on a Margin Trade has increased as compared to the risk on the date of the opening of such Margin Trade.

8. | ACCOUNTS

- 8.1. Any notice or other communication to be provided by HMS under this Agreement, including Account Statements and Trade Confirmations, may be sent by HMS at its option to the Client in electronic form by display on the Client's account summary in the Trading Platform or by e-mail. The Client is obliged to provide HMS with an e-mail address for this purpose and HMS shall be entitled to rely on this e-mail address unless advised otherwise in writing by the Client. An e-mail message is considered received by the Client when sent from HMS. HMS is not responsible or liable for any delay, alteration, re-direction or any other modification of the message may undergo after transmission from HMS. A message on the Client's account in the Trading Platform is considered received by the Client when HMS has placed the message on the Trading Platform.
- 8.2. HMS will make available to the Client a Settlement/Trade Confirmation in respect of any transaction or Contract entered into by HMS with or for the Client and in respect of any open position closed by HMS for the Client. Settlement/Trade Confirmations will normally be available following the execution of the transaction.
- 8.3. An Account Summary and Account Statement are available to the Client through the Trading Platform. The Account Summary will normally be updated periodically during HMS' opening hours. The Account Statement will normally be updated every Business Day with information for the previous Business Day. By accepting the terms and conditions under this agreement the Client agrees not to receive any Account Statements or Account Summaries in printed form from HMS other than upon specific request

- 8.4. The Client is obliged to verify the contents of each document, including documents sent in electronic form from HMS (e.g. Account Statements or Trade Confirmations via the Trading Platform or email). Such documents shall, in the absence of manifest error, be deemed conclusive unless the Client notifies HMS in writing to the contrary immediately after having received such document. In the event that the Client is of the opinion that it has entered into a Contract which should have produced a Trade Confirmation or otherwise a posting on the Client's account but the Client has not received such Trade Confirmation, the Client must inform HMS immediately upon such time as such Trade Confirmation should in the normal course of business have been received. In the absence of such information the transaction or Contract may at HMS' reasonable discretion be deemed non-existent and HMS shall have no liability to the Client.

9. COMMISSIONS, CHARGES AND OTHER COSTS

- 9.1. The Client shall be obliged to pay to HMS the commissions and charges set out in the Commission, Charges & Margin Schedule which can be found on the HMS website www.hms.lu. The current Commission, Charges & Margin Schedule is supplied to the Client on demand.
- 9.2. HMS may vary such commissions and charges without notice when the change is to the Client's advantage, or the grounds for changes are due to external circumstances beyond HMS' control. Such circumstances are:
- Changes in the relationship with HMS' counterparties, which affect HMS' cost structures;
 - Changes in commissions and charges from exchanges, clearing houses, information providers or other third party providers that are passed on to the Client by HMS.
- 9.3. HMS may vary such commissions and charges with one month's notice if:
- Market conditions, including competitive behaviour, call for changes to HMS conditions;
 - HMS for commercial reasons wishes to change its general cost and pricing structure;
 - Significant particulars of the Client, based on which individual conditions were provided, have changed;
- 9.4. In addition to such commissions and charges, the Client shall be obliged to pay all applicable VAT and other taxes, storage and delivery charges, exchange and clearing house fees and all other fees incurred by HMS in connection with any Contract and/or in connection with maintaining the business relationship with the Client.
- 9.5. Furthermore, HMS shall be entitled to demand that the following expenses are paid separately by the Client:
- All extraordinary disbursements resulting from the Client relationship e.g. telephone, fax, courier, and postal expenses in case the Client requests hardcopy Trade Confirmations, Account Statements etc. or otherwise which HMS could have delivered in electronic form;
 - Any expenses of HMS, caused by non-performance by the Client of any obligations it may have under this Agreement or any other agreement with HMS, including a fee determined by HMS in relation to forwarding of reminders, legal assistance etc.;
 - Administration fees in connection with security deposits, and any expenses of HMS in relation to a pledge, if provided, including any insurance premium payments; and
 - Any expenses of HMS in connection with auditor's comments/reports if such reports are requested by the Client.
- 9.6. The fees will be charged either as a fixed amount corresponding to payments effected, or as a percentage or hourly rate corresponding to the service performed. The methods of calculation can be combined. HMS reserves the right to introduce new fees.
- 9.7. HMS may share commission and charges with its associates, introducing third parties or receive remuneration from them in respect of Contracts entered into by HMS. Details of any such remuneration or sharing arrangement will not be set out on the relevant Trade Confirmation. HMS (or any associate) may benefit from commission, mark-up, mark-down or any other remuneration where it acts for the Counterparty to a Contract.
- 9.8. Unless specified otherwise in this Agreement, all amounts due to HMS (or Agents used by HMS) under this Agreement shall, at HMS' option:
- Be deducted from any funds held by HMS for the Client; or
 - Be paid by the Client.
- 9.9. In respect of any transactions to be effected OTC, HMS shall be entitled to quote prices at which it is prepared to trade with the Client. Save where HMS exercises any rights it may have under this Agreement to close a Contract, it is the Client's responsibility to decide whether or not it wishes to enter into a Contract at such prices.
- 9.10. Furthermore, the Client acknowledges, recognises and accepts that the procedures described in Clause 10, Interest and Currency

Conversions, and Clause 14, Market Making, may result in additional costs for the Client.

- 9.11. The Client has permanent access of the commissions, charges and other costs incurred by the trading activity through the Trading platform. Likewise, the Client has access to the schedule of commissions, charges and others costs as defined in accordance with the terms of this Agreement.

10. INTEREST AND CURRENCY CONVERSIONS

- 10.1. Subject to the Clause below and save as otherwise agreed in writing, HMS shall not be liable to:
- Pay interest to the Client on any credit balance in any Account or on any other sum held by HMS; or
 - Accounting to the Client for any interest received by HMS on such sums or in connection with any Contract.
- 10.2. If the balance of an Account exceeds certain amounts (as determined by HMS) then HMS will pay interest on the Client's positive Net Free Equity at such rate as HMS may determine from time to time.
- 10.3. If there is a debit balance on an Account then the Client will pay interest to HMS on the full amount of that balance at such rate as HMS may determine from time to time.
- 10.4. HMS is entitled to (but shall not in any circumstances be obliged to) convert:
- Any realized gains, losses, option premiums, commissions, interest charges and brokerage fees which arise in a currency other than the Client's base currency (i.e. the currency in which the Client's Account is denominated) to the Client's base currency;
 - Any cash currency deposit to another cash currency deposit for the purpose of purchasing an asset denominated in a currency other than the Client's base currency;
 - Any monies held by HMS for the Client into such other currency as HMS considers necessary or desirable to cover the Client's obligations and liabilities in that currency.
- 10.5. HMS may vary such interest rates and/or thresholds for interest calculation without notice when changes are due to the Client's advantage, or the grounds for changes are due to external circumstances beyond HMS control. Such circumstances are:
- Changes in the monetary or credit policies domestic or abroad that affect the general interest level in a way that is of importance to HMS;
 - Other changes in the general interest level, including in the money and bond markets that is of importance to HMS;
 - Changes in the relationship with HMS' Counterparties, which affect HMS' cost structures
- 10.6. HMS may vary such interest rates with one month's notice if:
- Market conditions, including competitive behaviour, call for a change to HMS conditions;
 - HMS wishes to change its general commission, fee and pricing structure for commercial reasons;
 - Changes to significant particulars of the Client, based on which individual conditions were provided, occur.
- 10.7. Whenever HMS conducts currency conversions, HMS will do so at such reasonable rate of exchange as HMS shall select. HMS shall be entitled to charge and retain for its own account a mark-up on the exchange rates for arranging such conversion as HMS may from time to time specify and publish in the Commission, Charges and Margin Schedule.

11. PLEDGE AGREEMENT

- 11.1. Any and all Collateral transferred to HMS by the Client or held by HMS or by HMS' Counterparties on behalf of the Client is pledged as a security for any existing or future liability that the Client may have or incur in respect of HMS. Without limitation such Collateral shall include the credit balances on Accounts.

12. NETTING

- 12.1. If on any date the same amounts are payable under this Agreement by each party to the other in the same currency, then, on such date, each party's obligations to make payment of any such amount will be automatically satisfied by netting. If the amounts are not in the same currency, the amounts may be converted by HMS in accordance with the principles referred to in Clause 10.
- 12.2. If the aggregate amount that is payable by one party exceeds the aggregate amount that is payable by the other party, then the party by whom the larger aggregate amount is payable shall pay the excess to the other party and the obligations to make payment of each party will be satisfied and discharged.
- 12.3. If this Agreement is terminated according to Clause 18, the claims that the parties have against each other shall be finally discharged by means of netting (closed). The value of open contracts shall be determined according to the principles set forth below and the final amount to be paid by one of the parties shall be the difference between the payment obligations of the parties.
- 12.4. If the Client, at any time during the Client relationship, has a negative cash-balance in any account, HMS is entitled but not obligated to net

INITIALS:

- between the Client's accounts. The Client shall bear all the charges and any other costs associated with such netting.
- 12.5. The rates based on which the contracts shall be closed shall be the market rates applicable on the day on which HMS decides to close the Contracts.
 - 12.6. HMS may at its reasonable discretion determine the rates by obtaining an offer from a market maker in the asset in question or by applying rates from electronic financial information systems.
 - 12.7. When determining the value of the Contracts to be netted, HMS shall apply its usual spreads and include all costs and other charges.
 - 12.8. This netting agreement shall be binding towards the estate and creditors of the parties to the Agreement.

13. CLIENT MONEY AND TRANSFERS

The Système d'indemnisation des investisseurs ("SILL"), or Investor Protection Scheme has been established in Luxembourg and covers investors (both physical persons and legal entities) within the limits and according to the terms and conditions provided by the law of 18 December 2015. The SILL provides cover for claims, under the legal conditions in place, on investments up to an amount equivalent to EUR 20,000, whatever their currency or location within the EU. Luxembourg's SILL is currently supervised by the Commission de Surveillance du Secteur Financier (the "CSSF"). More information may be obtained at the CSSF's website (www.cssf.lu).

Funds received from Clients ("Clients' Funds") are deposited and held by a custodian, i.e., a bank or another financial institution that are licensed for custodian services either in the Grand Duchy of Luxembourg and/or outside the Grand Duchy of Luxembourg.

Consequently, Client Funds are exposed to the risk of a bankruptcy of the custodian where the Client Funds are deposited. In this respect, as transactions conducted on the Trading Platform are concerned the following should be noted:

Client Funds are held at a first stage on an omnibus account HMS carries with a Luxembourg bank. Clients' Funds enjoy a certain protection in case of a bankruptcy of such bank by way of the Luxembourg Deposit Guarantee and Investor Compensation Scheme organised by the FGDL, as provided for by Part IV (bis) titled "Deposit guarantee scheme for credit institutions" of the 1993 Law, of which such bank is a member. Further information on the FGDL can be seen on the FGDL website (www.fgdl.lu).

At the time a Client opens and funds the Client on-line account, Client funds are transferred from the HMS omnibus account held in Luxembourg to an omnibus account HMS carries with a foreign custodian. The Foreign Custodian will then pass on the Clients' Funds to intermediate brokers, settlement agents and/or clearing houses in order to execute the transaction. The Foreign Custodian has full discretion to choose the intermediate brokers, settlement agents, clearing houses and/or other financial institutions.

Clients' Funds within such omnibus account with a foreign custodian are separated from each other. Clients' names are not disclosed to such custodians.

Clients' Funds that are outside of Luxembourg will not benefit from the protection they enjoy while being held in Luxembourg. Consequently, Clients' Funds may be lost notably in case of failure of Foreign Custodians, intermediary brokers, settlement agents or clearing houses when held by Foreign Custodians, intermediary brokers, settlement agents or clearing houses.

Even though HMS takes every reasonable measure to carefully select on the basis of publicly available information Foreign Custodians as to their solvency, HMS does not guarantee in any way or form the good standing of such institutions and HMS does not accept liability for any default or failure of such institutions. HMS further does not guarantee in any way or form the good standing of intermediary brokers, settlement agents, clearing houses or other financial institutions used by Foreign Custodians and HMS does not accept liability for any default or failure of the intermediary brokers, settlement agents, clearing houses or other financial institutions. For HMS TraderPro and HMS TraderGo, HMS uses the services of Saxo Bank A/S, (Hellerup, Denmark) as foreign custodian.

Any Client opening an online account with HMS for the Trading Platform agrees that the Client is willing to bear the risk and in position to suffer the losses that may result from it. The Client agrees that transfers of the Client's Funds are deemed to be made upon the Client instructions as evidenced by the fact that the Client initiates the opening of an on-line account.

Incoming transfers: The Client understands that at the time a Client opens and funds the Client on-line account, Client funds are transferred from the HMS omnibus account held in Luxembourg to an omnibus account HMS carries with a foreign custodian. This procedure may take up to three Luxembourg business days from the date the Client funds have been delivered to the HMS omnibus account in Luxembourg.

Outgoing transfers: The Client understands that when withdrawing funds from its on-line account with HMS, HMS must withdraw the Client funds HMS holds with its foreign custodian and transfer the Client funds to an omnibus account HMS holds in Luxembourg. Once the Client funds have been delivered to an account HMS holds in Luxembourg, HMS will transfer the Clients funds according to the Client instructions. This procedure may take up to five Luxembourg business days.

14. MARKET MAKING

- 14.1. When HMS deals for or on behalf of the Client, HMS shall act as principal or riskless principle or Agent, unless otherwise indicated in writing or notified to the Client. The Client is made aware that HMS is not a market maker. HMS routes all Client orders to its Service Provider Saxo Bank A/S Denmark or its third parties for all market making and order routing services. HMS' service provider or its third parties may for listed securities admitted to trading on a Regulated Market or Multilateral Trading Facility ("MTF") execute said securities outside of the Regulated Market or "MTF".
- 14.2. When HMS executes orders as Agent for the Client via its Service Provider on a recognised stock or futures exchange, HMS will not be a party to such a trade as such orders will be executed in the trading system of the relevant exchange at the best price and the most favourable conditions available at the time of the order or according to the Client's specific instructions, e.g. in a situation where the Client has chosen to limit the order. HMS will not include any additional spread in the price of the execution achieved for the Client but will be remunerated according to the Commission, Charges & Margin Schedule.
- 14.3. The Client is specifically made aware that in certain markets, including the foreign exchange markets, OTC foreign exchange options and CFD Contracts, the Service Provider and not HMS may act as a Market Maker in this case HMS will act as riskless principle.
- 14.4. HMS will, upon the Client's written request, in general disclose to the Client whether the Service Provider may act as a Market Maker in a certain instrument.
- 14.5. When acting as a Market Maker, the Service Provider will under normal market circumstances quote HMS bid and ask prices, HMS will add a mark up or mark down to that spread and quote the Client the HMS spread as per HMS trading conditions.
- 14.6. In order for HMS to quote prices with the swiftness normally associated with speculative trading, HMS may have to rely on available price or available information that may later prove to be faulty due to specific market circumstances, for instance, but not limited to, lack of liquidity in or suspension of an asset or errors in feeds from information providers or quotes from Counterparties. If so and if HMS has acted in good faith when providing the price to the Client HMS may cancel the trade with the Client but shall do so within reasonable time and shall provide the Client with a full explanation for the reason for such cancellation.
- 14.7. Following execution of any position on behalf of HMS' Clients, the Service Provider may at its reasonable discretion subsequently offset each such HMS Client position with another Client's position or a position with one of its Counterparties or retain a proprietary position in the market with the intention to obtain trading profits from such positions. Such decisions and actions may therefore result in the Service Provider offsetting said positions at prices different - sometimes significantly different - from prices originally quoted, resulting in trading profits or losses for the Service Provider. This in turn can raise the possibility of the Client incurring what may be seen as an implied cost (i.e. the difference between the price at which the Client traded with HMS and the price at which the Service Provider subsequently traded with Counterparties and/or other Clients) due to any profits realised by the Service Provider as a result of the Market Making function. However, the Market Making function may involve significant costs to the Services Provider if the market moves against the Service Provider as compared to the price at which the Service Provider originally traded.
- 14.8. The Client accepts that the Service Provider in such markets where the Service Provider acts as Market Maker, may hold positions that are contrary to positions of the Client, resulting in potential conflicts of interest between the Service Provider and the Client, cf. Clause 16.
- 14.9. In markets, where the Service Provider acts as a Market Maker on HMS' behalf, the Client accepts that HMS or the Service Provider has no obligation to quote prices to Clients at all times in any given market, nor to quote such prices to Clients with a specific maximum spread.
- 14.10. In markets, where the Service Provider acts as a Market Maker, HMS may or may not charge commissions. However, irrespective of whether or not HMS charges any commissions, the Client accepts that the Service Provider will seek to make additional profits out of its performance as a Market Maker and the size of any such profits may be considerable if and when compared with the Client's margin deposit.
- 14.11. The Client acknowledges, recognises and accepts that the price quoted to the Client by HMS includes a spread when compared with the price quoted to HMS by the Service Provider as well as compared to the price at which the Service Provider may have covered or expected to be able to cover the Contract in a trade with another Client or a Counterparty. Furthermore, the Client acknowledges, recognises and accepts that said spread constitutes remuneration to HMS and its Service Provider and that such spread not necessarily can be calculated for all Contracts and that such spread will not be specified at the Settlement/Trade Confirmation or otherwise revealed to the Client.

INITIALS:

- 14.12. The Client acknowledges, recognizes and accepts that HMS quotes variable spreads on options. The Client is specifically made aware that variable option spreads are affected by actual market conditions, which are beyond HMS' control. HMS does not guarantee any maximum or minimum quotable option spreads.
- 14.13. Any commission costs, interest charges, costs associated to and included in the spreads quoted by the Service Provider on HMS' behalf as a Market Maker in certain markets and other fees and charges will consequently influence the Client's trading result and will have a negative effect on the Client's trading performance compared to a situation if such commission costs, interest charges, costs associated to and included in the spreads did not apply.
- 14.14. Whilst dealing spreads and commissions are normally considered moderate seen in relation to the value of the assets traded, such costs may be considerable when compared with the Client's margin deposit with HMS. As a consequence thereof the Client's margin deposit may be depleted by trading losses that the Client may incur and by the directly visible dealing costs such as commissions, interest charges and brokerage fees as well as the said not visible costs for the Client, caused by the Service Providers performance as a Market Maker.
- 14.15. If the Client is an active trader and is undertaking numerous transactions, the total impact of visible as not visible costs may be significant. Consequently the Client may have to obtain significant profits in the markets in order to cover the costs associated with trading activities with HMS. For very active Clients, such costs may over time exceed the value of the margin deposited. Normally, when trading margined derivatives, the lower the percentage of the applicable margin rate, the higher the proportion of the costs associated with executing a transaction.
- 14.16. The Client is specifically made aware that in the area of market making in foreign exchange, OTC foreign exchange options, CFD Contracts and other OTC products, significant implied costs can arise as a consequence of the profits made by HMS or by the Service Provider performing in its capacity as a Market Maker.
- 14.17. The spread price quoted by HMS to the Client as well as the Service Providers performance as a Market Maker may negatively affect the Client's Account with HMS and the said implied costs are neither directly visible nor directly quantifiable for the Client at any time.
- 14.18. HMS is at no time obliged to disclose any details of its performance or income produced, related to mark-up or mark-downs on spreads, commissions, charges and fees. The Service Provider is at no time obliged to disclose any details of its performance or income produced as a Market Maker or otherwise related to other commissions, charges and fees.
- 14.19. The Client is specifically made aware that CFD Contracts may be OTC products quoted by the Service Provider whilst operating as a Market Maker and not traded on a recognised stock exchange. As a result, the description above of the implied, not visible costs related to the Service Providers performance as a Market Maker may also apply to any CFD Contract.
- 15. | AGGREGATION AND SPLIT
- 15.1. The Service Provider in accordance with HMS' Best Execution Policy is entitled to aggregate HMS Client orders with the Service Providers own orders, orders of any of the Service Providers associates and/or persons connected with the Service Provider including employees and other Clients. Furthermore, the Service Provider may split HMS Client orders when executing these. The orders will only be aggregated or split if the Service Provider reasonably believes it to be in the best interest of HMS' Clients. On some occasions, the aggregation and split of the Client's order may result in the Client obtaining a less favourable price than if the Clients' orders had been executed respectively separately or mutually.
- 16. | CONFLICTS OF INTEREST
- 16.1. HMS, its associates or other persons or companies connected with HMS may have an interest, relationship or arrangement that is material in relation to any performed transaction or Contract, or recommendation provided by HMS, under this Agreement. By entering into this Agreement the Client agrees to and accepts HMS' Conflict of Interest Policy (which distinctly describes the general character and/or background of any conflict of interest). The Client agrees that HMS or its Service Provider may transact such business without prior reference to any potential specific conflict of interest.
- 16.2. In addition, HMS may provide advice, recommendations and other services to third parties whose interests may be in conflict or competition with the Client's interests, and HMS, its associates and the employees of any of them may act on behalf of other Clients who may take positions opposite to the Client or may be in competition with the Client to acquire the same or a similar position.
- 17. | HMS' COUNTERPARTIES
- 17.1. In order to give effect to the Client's instructions, HMS may instruct a Counterparty selected at HMS' discretion and HMS shall do so where the transaction is to be subject to the rules of an exchange or market of which HMS or its Service Provider is not a member
- 17.2. HMS shall not be responsible or liable for errors committed by such Counterparties unless it is proven that HMS has been grossly negligent when selecting the Counterparties.
- 17.3. The Client may have been referred to HMS by an introducing party. If so, HMS shall not be responsible for any agreement made between the Client and the introducing party and to which HMS is not a party.
- 17.4. The Client is specifically made aware that if the Client enters into relation with HMS via an introducing party, HMS may pay fees or commissions to such party, which may result in additional costs for the Client. The Client acknowledges that such introducing party will be acting as an independent intermediary and that no such party shall be authorised to make any representations or offers on behalf of HMS.
- 18. | DEFAULT AND DEFAULT REMEDIES
- 18.1. The provisions contained in this Clause supplement any other rights that HMS or any of its associates have according to this Agreement, including but not limited to the Pledge Agreement referred to in Clause 11, and furthermore any other rights HMS has according to Luxembourg law.
- 18.2. HMS reserves the right to retain, or make deductions from, any amounts which HMS owes to or is holding for the Client if HMS ascertains that any amounts are due from the Client to HMS or its associates.
- 18.3. The Client authorises HMS, at HMS' discretion, at any time and without notice or liability to the Client, to sell, apply, set-off and/or charge in any manner any or all of the Client's property and/or the proceeds of any of the same of which HMS or any of its associates or Agents has custody or control, in order to discharge any or all of the Client's obligations to HMS or to HMS' associates or Agents as the case may be.
- 18.4. Each and any of the following events shall constitute an Event of Default:
- 18.4.1. If the Client fails to make any payment or fails to do any other act or thing required by this Agreement or by HMS in HMS' reasonable discretion;
- 18.4.2. If the Client fails to remit funds necessary to enable HMS to take delivery of such funds under any Contract on the first due date;
- 18.4.3. If the Client fails to provide assets for delivery, or take delivery of assets, under any Contract on the first due date;
- 18.4.4. If the Client dies or becomes of unsound mind;
- 18.4.5. If an application is made in respect of the Client for any action pursuant to the Luxembourg Bankruptcy Act or any equivalent act or, if a partnership, in respect of one or more of the partners, or if a company, a receiver, trustee, administrative receiver or similar officer is appointed;
- 18.4.6. If a petition is presented for the winding-up or administration of the Client;
- 18.4.7. If an order is made or a resolution is passed for the winding-up or administration of the Client (other than for the purposes of amalgamation or reconstruction with the prior written approval of HMS);
- 18.4.8. If any distress, execution or other process is levied against any property of the Client and is not removed, discharged or paid within seven days; or
- 18.4.9. If any security created by any mortgage or charge becomes enforceable against the Client and the mortgagee or chargee takes steps to enforce the security or charge;
- 18.4.10. If any indebtedness of the Client or any of its subsidiaries becomes immediately due and payable, or capable of being declared so due and payable, prior to its stated maturity by reason of default of the Client (or any of its subsidiaries) or the Client (or any of its subsidiaries) fails to discharge any indebtedness on its due date;
- 18.4.11. If the Client fails to fully comply with any obligations under this Agreement or any Contract including refraining from complying with margin requirements;
- 18.4.12. If any of the representations or warranties given by the Client are, or become, untrue;
- 18.4.13. If HMS or the Client is requested to close a Contract (or any part of a Contract) by any regulatory agency or authority; or
- 18.4.14. If HMS reasonably considers it necessary for its own protection or the protection of its associates.
- 18.5. Upon the existence of an Event of Default, HMS shall be entitled to, and is authorised at its discretion:
- 18.5.1. To sell or charge in any way any or all of the Client's Collateral, assets and property which may from time to time be in the possession or control of HMS or any of its associates or Agents or call on any guarantee;
- 18.5.2. To buy any Collateral, investment or other property where this is, or is in the reasonable opinion of HMS likely to be, necessary in order for HMS to fulfil its obligations under any Contract and the Client shall reimburse HMS for the full amount of the purchase price plus any associated costs and expenses;
- 18.5.3. To deliver any Collateral investment or property to any third party, or otherwise take any action HMS considers to be desirable in order to close any Contract;

INITIALS:

- 18.5.4. To require the Client immediately to close and settle a Contract in such manner as HMS may at its sole discretion request;
- 18.5.5. To enter into any foreign exchange transaction, at such rates and times as HMS may determine, in order to meet obligations incurred under a Contract; and
- 18.5.6. To re-invoice all or part of any assets standing to the debit or credit of any Account (including commuting HMS' or the Client's obligation to deliver an asset into an obligation to pay an amount equal to the market value of the asset (determined by HMS at its sole discretion) on the date re-invoicing takes place).
- 18.6. The Client authorises HMS to take any or all of the steps described in this Clause without prior notice to the Client, and acknowledges and agrees that HMS shall not be responsible nor have any liability for any consequences of it taking any such steps. The rights described in this Clause are in addition to any other rights which HMS (or any of its associates) may have against the Client under this Agreement or under Luxembourg law. The Client shall execute such documents and take such other action as HMS may request in order to protect the rights of HMS and its associates under this Agreement or under any agreement the Client may have with HMS or any of its associates.
- 18.7. If HMS exercises its rights to sell any Collateral or property of the Client under this Clause, it will perform such sale, without notice or liability to the Client, on behalf of the Client and apply the proceeds of such sale in or towards discharge of any or all of the Client's obligations to HMS or to HMS' associates.
- 18.8. Without prejudice to HMS' other rights under this Agreement or under Luxembourg law, HMS may, at any time and without notice, combine or consolidate all or any of the accounts maintained by the Client with HMS or any of its associates and off-set any and all amounts owed to, or by, HMS or any of its associates in such manner as HMS at its reasonable discretion may determine.

19. | ROLLOVERS (Foreign Exchange)

Entry prices (initial price of the trade when a position is opened) will be readjusted according to interest rate differentials. HMS' Service Provider will automatically rollover any open traded positions at the end of any given trading day on a tom/next basis one banking day before the expected maturity of the given position. Each such tom/next or longer rollover of open positions will be executed at the prevailing tom/next or applicable market rates using the appropriate bid and ask rates.

20. | SUSCRIBER AGREEMENT FOR EXCHANGE DATA

The vendor of real time data on the Trading Platform is Saxo Bank, Philip Heymans Allé 15, DK-2900 Hellerup, Denmark. Therefore, the Subscriber Agreement for any exchange data will be contracted between the vendor of the data and you the subscriber.

- 22.2.1. The Client's breach of the Agreement;
- 22.2.2. HMS entering into any transaction or Contract; or HMS taking any of the steps which HMS is entitled to take in an Event of Default; unless and to the extent only that such losses, taxes, expenses, costs and liabilities are suffered or incurred as a result of HMS' gross negligence or wilful default.
- 22.2.3. HMS providing any Services in accordance with the provisions of this Agreement and any other agreement that HMS may have in existence with the Client; unless and to the extent only that such losses, taxes, expenses, costs and liabilities are suffered or incurred as a result of HMS' gross negligence or wilful default.

- 22.4. HMS shall not be liable for:
- 22.4.1. Any loss (including consequential and other indirect losses), expense, cost or liability (together "Loss") suffered or incurred by the Client as a result of or in connection with the provision of the Services unless and to the extent that such Loss is suffered or incurred as a result of HMS' gross negligence or wilful default; or
- 22.4.2. Any Loss due to actions taken by HMS according to its rights under this Agreement, whether HMS would have been liable for such Loss according to general liability rules under Luxembourg law or not, unless such losses are a result of HMS' gross negligence or wilful default; or
- 22.4.3. any consequential or other indirect loss suffered or incurred by the Client whether arising from HMS' negligence or otherwise; or
- 22.4.4. any Loss suffered or incurred by the Client as a result of any third party (including any Counterparty to, or any person whom HMS engages in connection with a Contract) failing to perform its obligations to HMS and, in such circumstances, HMS shall not be liable to perform its obligations to the Client to the extent that it is unable to do so as a result of the third party's default.
- 22.5. The Client acknowledges, recognises and accepts that any market recommendation and any information communicated by HMS does not constitute an offer to buy or sell or the solicitation of an offer to buy or sell a Contract and that such recommendation and information, although based upon information from sources believed by HMS to be reliable, may be based solely on a broker's opinion and that such information may be incomplete and may be unverified and unverifiable. HMS makes no representation, warranty or guarantee as to, and shall not be responsible or liable for, the accuracy or completeness of any information or trading recommendation furnished to the Client.

23. | CONFIDENTIALITY AND DISCLOSURE

- 23.1. All parties to this Agreement will undertake to not disclose to any person or entity any information regarding account details, transactions, investments or other information of a confidential nature (unless required by law, by the applicable regulatory authority or by Market Rules).

24. | DURATION, AMENDMENTS AND TERMINATION

- 24.1. This Agreement is entered into for an unlimited period.
- 24.2. HMS may from time to time amend this Agreement by giving 30 days' notice, including but not limited to notice given by email, to the Client. Such changes shall become effective on the date specified in the notice. The Client may request to terminate this Agreement during the period before the amendments take effect. Any such request must be made in writing to the offices of HMS.
- 24.3. Either party may terminate this Agreement at any time by giving written notice to the opposite party of the Agreement.
- 24.4. On termination, HMS and the Client undertake to complete all Contracts that are already in progress and the terms of this Agreement shall continue to bind both parties in relation to such transactions. Furthermore, HMS is entitled to require the Client to pay any charges incurred in transferring the Client's investments.
- 24.5. At any time after the termination of this Agreement, HMS is entitled, without notice, to close any Contract between HMS and the Client.

INITIALS:

24.6. It is emphasised that HMS will have no liabilities whatsoever for losses occurred in connection with termination.

25. | COMPLAINTS AND DISPUTES

25.1. In the event that the Client has a complaint against HMS, the Client is obliged to advise HMS of the complaint in writing. HMS is hereafter obliged to investigate the complaint promptly and fully.

25.2. Without prejudice to any of HMS' other rights under this Agreement, in any case when the Client and HMS are in a dispute over a Margin Trade or alleged Margin Trade or any instruction relating to a Margin Trade, HMS is entitled at its sole discretion and without notice to close any such Margin Trade or alleged Margin Trade if HMS reasonably believes such action to be desirable for the purpose of limiting the maximum amount involved in the dispute. HMS shall not be responsible for or under any obligation to the Client in connection with any subsequent fluctuations in the level of the relevant Margin Trade. If HMS closes a Margin Trade under this Clause such action shall be without prejudice to HMS' right to contend that such Margin Trade had already been closed by HMS or was never opened by the Client. HMS shall take reasonable steps to inform the Client that HMS has taken such action as soon as practicable after doing so. Where HMS closes a Margin Trade or alleged Margin Trade in accordance with this Clause, the closing shall be without prejudice to the Client's rights to open a new Margin Trade, provided that such Margin Trade is opened in accordance with this Agreement. When calculating margin or other funds required for such Margin Trade, HMS is entitled to do so on the basis that HMS' view of the disputed events or instructions is correct.

26. | GOVERNING LAW AND JURISDICTION

The relationship between HMS and the Client shall be governed under the laws of the Grand Duchy of Luxembourg. All disputes and actions shall be under the exclusive competence of the Courts of Luxembourg City.

27. | MISCELLANEOUS

27.1. The Client acknowledges that HMS is collecting data that may be personal to the Client, for legitimate business purposes as set out under this Agreement and the Client consents to this. The Client further agrees that HMS may transfer this personal data for such legitimate business purposes as are envisaged under this Agreement without having to inform the Client each and every time that such personal data is so used. HMS for its part acknowledges that the Client may request access to such personal data and may advise HMS on when such personal data may be used. HMS further acknowledges that it is bound to comply with certain Luxembourg laws and regulations governing the use of personal data.

27.2. If at any time any provision of this Agreement is or becomes illegal, invalid or unenforceable in any respect under the law of any jurisdiction, neither the legality, validity or enforceability of the remaining provisions of this Agreement under the law of that jurisdiction nor the legality, validity or enforceability of such provision under the law of any other jurisdiction shall be in any way affected.

27.3. HMS shall not be liable to the Client for any failure, hindrance or delay in performing its obligations under this Agreement where such failure, hindrance or delay arises directly or indirectly from circumstances beyond its reasonable control. Further, HMS shall not be liable for force majeure events that shall include without limitation any technical difficulties such as telecommunications failures or disruptions, non-availability of HMS' website or the Trading Platform e.g. due to maintenance downtime, declared or imminent war, revolt, civil unrest, catastrophes of nature, statutory provisions, measures taken by authorities, strikes, lock-outs, boycotts, or blockades, notwithstanding that HMS is a party to the conflict and including cases where only part of HMS' functions are affected by such events.

27.4. Furthermore, HMS is entitled, in its reasonable opinion, to determine that an emergency or an exceptional market condition exists. Such conditions shall include, but are not limited to, the suspension or closure of any market or the abandonment or failure of any event to which HMS relates its quote or the occurrence of an excessive movement in the level of any Margin Trade and/or underlying market or HMS' reasonable anticipation of the occurrence of such a movement. In such cases HMS may without any liability to the Client increase its margin requirements, close all of the Client's open Margin Trades and/or suspend or modify the application of all or any of the terms of this Agreement, including but not limited to, altering the last time for trading a particular Margin Trade, to the extent that the condition makes it impossible or impracticable for HMS to comply with the term in question.

27.5. The Client may not assign any of the Client's rights or delegate any of the Client's obligations either under this Agreement or according to any Contract to any person whereas HMS may assign, in its absolute discretion, its rights or delegate its obligations to any regulated financial institution.

27.6. The rights and remedies contained in this Agreement are cumulative and not exclusive of any rights or remedies provided by law.

27.7. No delay or omission on the part of HMS in exercising any right, power or remedy provided by law or under this Agreement, or partial or defective exercise thereof, shall:

- impair or prevent further or other exercise of such right, power or remedy; or
- operate as a waiver of such right, power or remedy.

27.8. No waiver of any breach of any term of this Agreement shall (unless expressly agreed in writing by the waiving party) be construed as a waiver of a future breach of the same term or as authorising a continuation of the particular breach.

27.9. The Client hereby ratifies all transactions with HMS effected prior to the Client's acceptance of this Agreement and agrees that the rights and obligations of the Client in respect thereto shall be governed by the terms of this Agreement.

27.10. By accepting the Terms on behalf of a corporation or other legal entity, the person signing represents and warrants that he/she is authorised to act on behalf of such corporation or legal entity and to bind the same to the Terms and all obligations arising hereunder. If at a later stage it becomes apparent that the signatory was not duly authorised to bind the corporation or the legal entity, HMS will have the right to seek restitution from this person. Furthermore, the signatory shall indemnify HMS against all liabilities, losses, damages, costs and expenses in relation to any claims or actions brought against HMS as a result of the signatory holding out to be authorised to act and bind any such corporation or legal entity.

27.11. Client shall be able to communicate with HMS in English or any other language as HMS may offer from time to time.

HMS or third parties may have provided the Client with translations of this Agreement. The original English version shall be the only legally binding version for the Client and HMS. In case of discrepancies between the English version and the version accepted by the Client, the English version provided by HMS shall prevail.

27.12. The Client accepts that HMS may be closed on European holidays.

8. | ELECTRONIC TRADING AND ORDER ROUTING DISCLOSURE STATEMENT

This brief statement does not disclose all of the risk and other significant aspects of Electronic Trading and Order Routing System.

- 8.1. Differences among electronic trading systems: Trading or routing orders through electronic systems varies widely amongst the different electronic systems. You should consult the rules and regulations of the exchange(s) offering the electronic system and/or listing the contract traded or order routed to understand, among other things, in the case of trading systems, the system's order matching procedure, opening and closing procedures and prices, error trade policies and trading limitations or requirements; and, in the case of all systems, qualifications for access and grounds for termination and limitations on the types of orders that may be entered into the system. Each of these matters may present different risk factors with respect to trading on or using a particular system. Each system may also present risks related to system access, varying response time, and security. In the case of internet-based systems, there may be additional types of risks related to the system access, varying response times and security, as well as risks related to service providers on the receipt and monitoring of electronic mail.
- 8.2. Risk associated with system failure: Trading through an electronic trading or order routing system exposes you to risks associated with system or component failure. In the event of system or component failure, it is possible that, for a certain time period, you may not be able to enter new orders, execute existing orders or modify or cancel orders that were previously entered. System or component failure may also result in loss of orders or order priority.
- 8.3. Simultaneous open outcry pit and electronic trading: Some contracts offered on an electronic trading system may be traded electronically and through open outcry during the same trading hours. You should review the rules and regulations of the exchange offering the system and/or listing the contract to determine how orders that do not designate particular process will be executed.

INITIALS:

9. | LIMITATION OF LIABILITY

9.1. Exchanges offering an electronic trading or order routing system and/or listing the contract may have adopted rules to limit their liability, the liability of brokers, and software and communication system vendors and the amount of damages you may collect for system failure and delays. These limitations of liability provisions vary amongst the exchanges. You should consult the rules and regulations of the relevant exchange(s) in order to understand these liability limitations. Each exchange's relevant rules are available upon request from the industry professional with whom you have an account.

10. | DURATION, AMENDMENTS AND TERMINATION

10.1. This Agreement is entered into for an unlimited period.
10.2. The Company may from time to time amend this Agreement by giving 30 days' notice to the Client. Such changes shall become effective on the date specified in the notice. The Client may request to terminate this Agreement during the period before the amendments take effect. Any such request must be made in writing to the offices of the Company.

10.3. Either party may terminate this Agreement at any time by giving written notice to the opposite party of the Agreement.

11. | MISCELLANEOUS.

11.1. If at any time any provision of this Agreement is or becomes illegal, invalid or unenforceable in any respect under the law of any jurisdiction, neither the legality, validity or enforceability of the remaining provisions of this Agreement under the law of that jurisdiction may be invoked as cause for compensation.

12. | GOVERNING LAW AND JURISDICTION.

The relationship between the Company and the Client shall be governed under the laws of the Grand Duchy of Luxembourg. All disputes and actions shall be under the exclusive competence of the Courts of Luxembourg City.

The account holder(s) has/have read, understood and accepted the E – Business Agreement and attest(s) as to having received a copy of it.

4 | RISK WARNING NOTICE

This brief statement does not disclose all of the risk and other significant aspects of trading in derivatives products such as options and futures. Transactions in options and futures carry a high degree of risk for investors (purchasers and sellers). Therefore, prior to trading in derivatives, the Client should have a good understanding of the nature of such transactions and should familiarize himself to the different types of instruments, risk exposure and contractual obligations. Experience, objectives, financial resources and other relevant circumstances should also be taken into consideration when undertaking such high-risk investments. Therefore, the Client should also carefully consider whether trading or day trading in such instruments is appropriate to the Client's risk profile.

Be aware that the eventual granting of access to higher risk financial products (such as CFDs, for example) by HMS to its Clients depends on a prior assessment conducted by HMS of the appropriateness of such products to the Client. This assessment is essentially supported by the information provided by the Client to HMS via the Account Opening Form, namely in regards to its investment experience and knowledge. Thus, any misinformation provided to HMS exempts us from any liability connected to the access and use of such financial products.

| DAY TRADING

1. Day trading can be extremely risky. Day trading generally is not appropriate for someone of limited resources and limited investment or trading experience and low risk tolerance. The Client should be prepared to lose all of the funds that the Client uses for day trading. In particular, the Client should not fund day-trading activities with retirement savings, student loans, second mortgages, emergency funds, funds set aside for purposes such as education or home ownership, or funds required to meet living expenses.
2. Be cautious of claims of large profits from day trading. The Client should be wary of advertisements or other statements that emphasize the potential for large profits in day trading. Day trading can also lead to large and immediate financial losses.
3. Day trading requires knowledge of financial markets. Day trading requires in-depth knowledge of the markets and trading techniques and strategies. In attempting to profit through day trading, the Client competes with professional, licensed traders employed by securities firms. The Client should have appropriate experience before engaging in day trading.
4. Day trading requires knowledge of a firm's operations. The Client should be familiar with a securities firm's business practices, including the operation of the firm's order execution systems and procedures. The Client should confirm that the firm has adequate systems capacity to permit Clients to engage in day trading activities.
5. Day trading will generate substantial commissions, even if the per trade cost is low. Day trading involves aggressive trading and each trade generates a commission. The total daily commissions that the Client pays on its trades will add to its losses or significantly reduce its earnings.

| FOREIGN EXCHANGE, CFD'S AND FUTURES

6. Effect of "Leverage" or "Gearing".

Foreign Exchange, CFDs and Futures trading are normally undertaken on the basis of "margin trading". That is a relative small deposit (the margin) is held as collateral in order to control much larger positions in the market.

Therefore, any transactions in Foreign Exchange, CFDs and Futures carry a high degree of risk. Any market movement will have a much higher leverage effect/risk to any open positions in relation to the capital held as security. Open positions are continuously exposed to the potential of changing political and/or economic environments that may affect the price and/or liquidity of underlying assets.

Due to the low margin normally required in margined foreign exchange, CFDs or futures trades, any price changes in the underlying assets may result in significant or unlimited losses, which may substantially exceed the Client's initial investment and any additional margin deposit.

Before participating in the foreign exchange, CFDs or Futures markets, the Client should carefully consider the Client's investment objective, experience and risk profile. Above all only risk capital should be used.

The Client is advised that the minimum margin requirements must be maintained at all times and failure to do so may result in all positions being closed out. Losses are not limited to and may exceed the Client's account balance. The Client shall also remain liable for any resulting deficit balance. If the market moves against the Client's position or margin levels are increased, the Client may be called upon to pay substantial additional funds on short notice to maintain the Client's position.

The Client agrees that each Foreign Exchange, CFDs' Options or Futures transaction is subject to the rules and regulations of the market and or exchange where such transactions are executed.

| OPTIONS

7. Variable degree of risk.

Trading in options carries a considerable degree of risk. Purchasers and sellers of options should familiarize themselves with the different type of options (i.e. call or put) and the relevant risks associated. The Client should calculate the extent to which the value of the options must increase for the Client's position to become profitable, taking into account the premium and all transaction costs.

An option grants the buyer the right, but not the obligation, to buy or sell the underlying asset at an agreed price (strike price) on a set date. If the Client buys a Call Option, he has the right to buy the underlying asset. The maximum loss is the premium paid up front plus any commission or other transaction charges and the maximum profit is unlimited.

If the Client buys a Put Option, he has the right to sell the underlying asset. The maximum loss is once again the premium paid up front plus any commission or other transaction charges and the maximum profit is unlimited.

When the Client buys an option, the Client should be aware that the price of the underlying asset could move against him/her. The purchaser of options may exercise the options or allow the options to expire. The exercise of an option results either in a cash settlement or in the purchaser acquiring or delivering the underlying asset. If the option expires worthless, the maximum loss that the Client can sustain is limited to the premium plus any commission or other transaction charges.

If the option is on a future, the purchaser will acquire a futures position with associated liabilities for margin (see the section on Futures above). If the Client is contemplating purchasing deep-out-of-the-money options, the Client should be aware that the chance of such options becoming profitable is, ordinarily, remote.

Writing (Selling) an option involves greater risk than purchasing an option. By writing or selling an option, the Client accepts a legal obligation to purchase or sell the underlying asset at the agreed price (strike price). Although the premium received by the seller is fixed, the seller can sustain a loss well in excess of that amount. If the market moves unfavourably and the Client fails to comply with the Company's margin requirements, HMS LUX S.A. (hereinafter 'HMS'), at its absolute discretion and without prior warning, reserves the right, but not the obligation, to close out (liquidate) all positions, on a discretionary and best effort basis in order to maintain the margin requirement. The Client's position will be liquidated accordingly and the Client will remain liable for any resulting deficit after said liquidation. The seller will also be exposed to the risk of the purchaser exercising the options and the seller will be obliged to either settle the option in cash or to acquire or deliver the underlying asset. If the option is on a future, the seller will acquire a position in a future with associated liabilities for margin (see the section on Futures above). If the option is covered by the seller holding a corresponding position in the underlying asset or a future or another option, the risk may be reduced. If the option is not covered, the risk of loss can be unlimited.

The seller of a Call Option is obliged to sell the underlying asset at the agreed strike. The maximum loss is unlimited and the maximum profit is limited to the premium received minus any commission or other transaction charges.

The seller of a Put Option is obliged to buy the underlying asset at the agreed strike. The maximum loss is unlimited and the maximum profit is limited to the premium received minus any commission or other transaction charges.

Hence the risk as a seller of naked options (writing of options), with no underlying asset, is very high.

For example, if the Client writes a put option, the buyer of the option can at any time exercise it against the Client and the Client will become liable to buy the underlying assets at the strike price, even if the market price has become zero. For call option, the risk can be even higher if the Client does not own the underlying asset.

Certain exchanges in some jurisdictions permit deferred payment of the option premium, exposing the purchaser to liability for margin payments not exceeding the amount of the premium. The purchaser is still subject to the risk of losing the premium and transaction costs. When the option is exercised or expires, the purchaser is responsible for any unpaid premium outstanding at that time.

Investors should also familiarize themselves with the difference between American Style and European style options. Only experienced investors, who are fully aware of the complexities and risks involved and have the financial liquidity and resources to sustain substantial losses, should deal in writing Options.

INITIALS:

The Client agrees that each option transaction is subject to the rules and regulations of the market or exchange where such transactions are executed.

| ADDITIONAL RISKS COMMON TO FOREIGN EXCHANGE, CFDs, FUTURES AND OPTIONS

8. Risk management.

The Client has the possibility to place orders with a view to limiting losses. However, these orders are not guaranteed to be executed and may not effectively limit losses due to fluctuating market conditions. Strategies using combinations of positions, such as “spread” and “straddle” positions may be as risky as taking simple “long” or “short” positions.

9. Terms and Conditions of Contracts.

The Client should ask the firm with which the Client deals about the terms and conditions of the specific foreign exchange, CFDs, futures or options which the Client is trading and associated obligations (e.g. the circumstances under which the Client may become obligated to make or take delivery of the underlying asset of a futures contract and, in respect of options, expiration dates and restrictions on the time for exercise). Under certain circumstances the specifications of outstanding contracts (including the exercise price of an option) may be modified by the exchange or clearing house to reflect changes in the underlying asset.

10. Suspension or Restriction of trading and Pricing Relationships.

Market conditions (e.g. illiquidity) and/or the operation of the rules of certain markets (e.g. the suspension of trading in any contract or contract month because of price limits or “circuit breakers”) may increase the risk of loss by making it difficult or impossible to effect transactions or close a position. For example, a rapid price movement can lead to a suspension or restriction of the relevant exchange trading. And in this case even a stop-loss order will not necessarily be efficient because it may be impossible to execute the order at the stipulated price. The Client will be fully liable for any outstanding deficit balances.

Further, normal pricing relationships between the underlying asset and the future, and the underlying asset and the option may not exist. This can occur when, for example, the futures contract underlying the option is subject to price limits when the option is not. The absence of an underlying reference price may make it difficult to judge “fair” value.

11. Deposited Cash and Property.

The Client should familiarize himself/herself with the protections accorded money or other property the Client deposits for domestic and foreign transactions, particularly in the event of a firm insolvency or bankruptcy. The extent to which the Client may recover the Client’s money or property may be governed by specific legislation or local rules. In some jurisdictions the property which had been specifically identifiable as the Client’s own will be prorated in the same manner as cash for purposes of distribution, in the event of a shortfall.

12. Commission, fees and other charges.

Before the Client begins to trade, the Client should obtain a clear explanation of all commission, fees and other charges for which the Client will be liable. These charges will affect the Client’s net profit (if any) or increase the Client’s loss.

Services provided to the Client will be invoiced in accordance with the practices within the market and the nature of the transaction executed. HMS has the right to modify the relevant fee schedule in force from time to time. It is permanently at the disposal of the Client and is deemed to have been accepted by the Client upon entering into a transaction.

13. Transactions in Other Jurisdictions.

Transactions on markets in other jurisdictions, including markets formally linked to a domestic market, may expose the Client to additional risk. Such markets may be subject to regulation, which may offer different or diminished investor protection. The Client’s local regulatory authority will be unable to compel the enforcement of the rules of regulatory authorities or markets in other jurisdictions where the Client’s transactions have been effected.

14. Currency Risks.

The profit or loss in transactions in foreign currency-denominated contracts (whether they are traded in the Client’s own or another jurisdiction) will be affected by fluctuations in currency rates where there is a need to convert from the currency denomination of the contract to another currency.

15. Trading Facilities.

Most open-outcry and electronic trading facilities are supported by computer-based component systems for the order-routing, execution, matching, registration or clearing of trades. As with all facilities and systems, they are vulnerable to temporary disruption or failure. The Client’s ability to recover certain losses may be subject to limits on liability imposed by the system provider, the market, the clearing house and/or member firms. Such limits may vary; the Client should ask the firm with which the Client deals for details in this respect.

16. Electronic Trading.

Electronic trading carries certain inherent risks due to the complexity and reliance on numerous connections and electronic services.

HMS will strive to ensure timely delivery and execution of orders placed electronically, but due to the inherent risks, the data may be delayed. Such delay may be the result of, but are not limited to, power failures, volume of Internet traffic, power outages, telephone line congestion, hardware failure or software failure. The result of any system failure may be that the Client’s order is either not executed according to Client’s instructions or is not executed at all. HMS does not guarantee the Client the access to the Client’s account at any time, or the receipt, acceptance and entry of any order transmitted electronically.

Please note: HMS will perform its duties to the best of its abilities, but cannot guarantee “market on open” or “market on close” fills.

17. Off-Exchange Transactions.

In some jurisdictions, and only then in restricted circumstances, firms are permitted to effect off-exchange transactions. The firm with which the Client deals may be acting as the Client’s counterparty to the transaction. It may be difficult or impossible to liquidate an existing position, to assess the value, to determine a fair price or to assess the exposure to risk. For these reasons, these transactions may involve increased risks. Off-exchange transactions may be less regulated or subject to a separate regulatory regime. Before the Client undertakes such transactions, the Client should familiarize himself/herself with applicable rules and attendant risks.

The Client acknowledges, recognizes understands and expressly accepts the inherent risks related to Foreign Exchange and derivatives trading and that such transactions are speculative in nature and may carry high levels of risk, which may result in substantial losses.

The account holder(s) has/have read, understood and accepted this Risk Warning Notice and attest(s) as to having received a copy of it.

GUIDING NOTICE to assist on filling in the SOURCE OF FUNDS/SOURCE OF WEALTH STATEMENT:

(Please note that this notice does not need to be returned to HMS together with the SOURCE OF FUNDS/SOURCE OF WEALTH STATEMENT)

The description and examples here below are meant as guidance note, prepared by HMS to assist its clients in preparing a practical and comprehensive source of funds and source of wealth statement. This statement is requested for Compliance with, among others, the regulatory requirements imposed by the 4th (EU) Anti Money Laundering and Countering Terrorist Financing ('AML/CTF') Directive and the Luxembourgish AML/CTF legal framework.

1. | SOURCE OF FUNDS INFORMATION

Source of Funds refers to the origin of the funds which are subject of the business relationship maintained between HMS and its client and of the transactions HMS is required to undertake on the client's behalf (e.g., the amounts used to cover margin calls). This section needs to include the information about the account (s) from where the funds may be transferred to your Investment Account with HMS.

In this regard we wish to note that the Bank Account Holder (requested in the Statement) must be the holder of the account opened with HMS.

2. | SOURCE OF WEALTH INFORMATION

Source of Wealth refers to the origin of the entire body of wealth of the client or, in case of a corporate account, of its Beneficial Owner(s). The applicable Regulations demand us to obtain detailed information on as to the volume of wealth the client estimates to have and on how it was acquired. This information is expected to be substantive, detailed with chronological sense, and supported on verifiable data and certifiable documents. HMS will conduct diligences in order to verify information from databases or other open sources. HMS may request further information and/or supporting documentation to complete its assessment.

It is important to note that source(s) of wealth must be from legitimate business and commercial activities and that, generally, no single source of wealth is likely to be the sole responsible for the total value of net worth. It is also understood that it is often difficult to specify the wealth from all different sources. The level of detail can, however, follow the below guidelines. As for the description, we provide three examples further down.

Here below are some examples of the essential elements to include in your description depending on the Source of Wealth:

- Property sale – details of the property sold (address, date of sale, sale value, parties involved), which shall be duly supported by a copy of the executed contract of sale and the title deed or extract of land register.
- Sale of Shares or of other business venture – details of the sale (value of the shares, nature of the venture, date of sale, sale value, parties involved, name and address of incorporated business ventures, share certificate/register), which shall be duly supported by a copy of the executed contract of sale and extract(s) from commercial/trade register.
- Inheritance – details of the late tester and legacy (identity of deceased, nature of kinship or relationship, date of decease, inheritance total amount, executor/solicitor details), which shall be duly supported by a copy of the execution or will (issued by executor/solicitor/court) and tax clearance evidence.
- Profits and/or Dividends – details on the company/ies generating profits/dividends (name, address, commercial/trade register extract), which shall be duly supported by a copy of the latest audited financial statements or management accounts, the dividends' distribution notice/decision and the tax declaration documents.
- Maturity or Surrender of (Life) Insurance Policy – details on policy (policy's provider name and address, policy's number/reference, amount received), which shall be duly supported by a copy of the policy or of its execution deed.
- Credit (bank) Loan – details on the loan agreement and on the lender (name and address of lender, amount, date and purpose of loan, details of any collateral), which shall be duly supported by a copy of the loan agreement.
- Employment Income – details of employment and employer (name and address of employer, nature of employment, annual salary and bonuses received in the last 3 years), which shall be duly supported by a copy of the employment/business agreement and latest pay slip(s) or tax declaration (if self-employed).

Please find here below some examples of descriptions of volume and composition of wealth, or source of net worth or yet, in case the wealth comes from corporate/legal entities. Please note that these examples are only mentioned as guidance and it is your responsibility to provide accurate and complete information for further compliance of your account with the applicable legal requirements.

GLOSSARY

The below definitions are based on the OECD Common Reporting Standard for Automatic Exchange of Financial Account Information (“CRS”) and the FATCA Intergovernmental Agreement concluded between Luxembourg and the United States of America.

If you have any questions about these definitions or require further detail, please contact your legal or tax advisor.

“Active NFE” or “Active NFFE” refers to any NFE/NFFE that meets any of the following criteria:

- a) Active operating company – generating 50% or more of its gross income from active operations (as opposed to investments), and less than 50% of the assets held by the entity during the preceding calendar year or other appropriate reporting period are assets that produce or are held for the production of passive income. A Financial Institution is not an active operating company.
- b) Holding or financing company of a non-financial group;
- c) Start-up companies – The NFE/NFFE does not yet operate a business and has no prior record of operating one but it is investing capital into assets with the intent to operate a business other than that of a Financial Institution, provided that the NFE/NFFE does not qualify for this exception after 24 months following the date of its incorporation;
- d) Entity in liquidation or reorganisation – provided that the NFE/NFFE has not been, in the past 5 years, a Financial Institution and is currently in a liquidation or reorganisation process with the purpose to continue or recommence its business operations (that must be other than that of a Financial Institution);
- e) Treasury centre of a non-financial group;
- f) Non-profit oriented NFE/NFFE.

In sum, if the NFE/NFFE does not fulfil any of the above conditions, it must be considered as a Passive NFE/NFFE.

“Controlling Person(s)” of an Entity are the natural persons who effectively exercise(s) control over the Entity. This is generally exercised by the natural person(s) who:

- a) Ultimately has/have a controlling ownership interest in the Entity; or,
- b) Where no natural person exercises control through ownership interests, the natural person(s) who exercise(s) control of the Entity through other means (ex. voting rights); or,
- c) The natural person(s) who hold(s) the position of senior managing official.

The above assessment of Controlling Person(s) corresponds to the notion of “(Ultimate) Beneficial Owner” (or “(U)BO”), as presented by Recommendation 10 of the FATF Recommendations and further reaffirmed by the Luxembourg AML Law of 12 November 2004.

All entities classified as Passive NFE/NFFE or Investment Entity that are tax resident in a non-CRS jurisdiction must have (at least) one Controlling Person identified.

“Financial Institution” refers to a “Depository Institution”, a “Custodial Institution”, an “Investment Entity” or a “Specified Insurance Company”, as defined here below:

- “Depository Institution” means any Entity that accepts deposits in the ordinary course of a banking or similar business;
- “Custodial Institution” means any Entity that holds, as a substantial portion of its business, Financial Assets on behalf of others;
- “Investment Entity” refers to any Entity:
 - o Which primarily conducts one or more of the following activities or operations, for or on behalf of a customer:
 - Trading in money market instruments (cheques, bills, derivatives, etc.), foreign exchange,

- interest rates and index instruments, transferable securities or commodities' futures trading;
 - Individual and Collective Portfolio Management; or
